The Institute of International Education (IIE) Presents a Workshop on

DIVERSIFYING THE KINDS OF STUDENTS WHO STUDY ABROAD AND THE REGIONS WHERE THEY GO

BENJAMIN A. GILMAN INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP

The challenge facing many underrepresented institutions, in the effort to increase the numbers of non-traditional students who study abroad, is a lack of resources to promote study abroad and limited funding sources available to students. To address this challenge the Gilman Scholarship Program is hosting a one-day workshop to provide faculty and administrators with the tools to help increase the numbers of underrepresented students who study abroad.

WORKSHOP SCHEDULE

Gilman Scholarship Workshop for Underrepresented Institutions

September 21, 2012
10:00am - 3:00pm
IIE-Houston Office
Houston, TX

Register to attend by September 10, 2012

Please visit the Gilman website at www.iie.org/gilman for information on the Gilman International Scholarship Program's resources for advisors and administrators.

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW

Participants will leave with an increased knowledge of study abroad opportunities and the Gilman International Scholarship Program.

In addition, each participant will receive a tool kit that will help to immediately implement initiatives on campus or expand on current activities. International Education Outreach resources in the tool kit include but are not limited to:

- Gilman statistics and student profiles, Gilman outreach materials, PowerPoints, email templates and print publications
- A one-year membership to the Institute of International Education (IIE Network) for all NEW member institutions, which includes:

  IIE Passport – the most complete guide to planning short and long-term study abroad;

  Financial Resources for International Study – a comprehensive guide to study abroad funding;

  A one-year subscription to the IIE Networker Magazine;

  Full-color World Maps and Featured Country and Language Brochures.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Faculty and administrators from underrepresented institutions and/or those that work with underrepresented students.

WORKSHOP HOST

The workshop is hosted by the Institute of International Education (IIE), Gilman Scholarship Program. The Gilman Scholarship Program is administered by IIE and sponsored by the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. There is no cost to attend.
