

Peace and prosperity in the 21st Century depend on increasing the capacity of people to think and work on a global and intercultural basis.
As technology opens borders, education opens minds.

IIE's Mission

An independent, nonprofit organization, the Institute is a resource for educators and institutions worldwide. Our goals are:

- to promote closer educational relations between the people of the United States and other countries
- to increase the number of students, scholars and professionals who have the opportunity to study, teach and conduct research outside of their own countries
- to strengthen and internationalize institutions of higher learning in the U.S. and throughout the world
- to foster sustainable development through professional development and training programs in fields such as energy, environment, business management, and leadership
- to partner with corporations, foundations, and governments in finding and developing people able to think and work on a global basis

Why is International Education Needed?

Broadening the outlook of future leaders through academic and professional exchange strengthens their ability to think and act on a cooperative basis. Academic and professional exchange is also a critical means for transferring knowledge and skills across borders and preparing a new generation of global citizens. In the century ahead, these activities will be more important than ever, since many of the world's problems can be solved only on a regional and transnational basis.
