

OPEN DOORS FACT SHEET: IRAN

INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION Educational Exchange Data from Open Doors 2011

In the 2010/11 academic year, 5,626 students from Iran were studying in the United States (up 19% from the previous year). Iran is the twenty-second leading place of origin for students coming to the United States.

Academic Level: The majority of Iranian students study at the graduate level. In 2010/11, their breakdown was as follows:

7.6% undergraduate 83.5% graduate students

3.0% other

5.9% OPT (Optional Practical Training)

Historical trends: Iran was the top sender of students to the U.S. from 1974/75 to 1982/83. The peak year was 1979/80 when 51,310 students from Iran were studying in the United States. The number of Iranian students in the U.S. declined dramatically throughout the 1980s and 1990s, bottoming out at fewer than 1,700 students in 1999. Since then, the number of students began to rise, with the more than 5,600 Iranian students in the U.S. now exceeding 1991/92 levels, but still significantly below the peak levels that were enrolled in the United States approximately 30 years ago.
