IIE-Administered Programs in the MENA Region

Building on its extensive networks, experience, and programs around the globe, IIE has developed a strong set of capacities in the MENA region. IIE and our established office in Cairo, Egypt have worked with organizations in Algeria, Bahrain, Egypt, Iraq, Jordan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Libya, Morocco, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Tunisia, the United Arab Emirates, West Bank/Gaza, and Yemen. Core initiatives include:

- Increasing Access to Higher Education. IIE works on a number of scholarship management programs. With support from USAID, the Leadership Opportunities Transforming University Students (LOTUS) program provides opportunities for 149 Egyptian boys and girls from underserved backgrounds to attend private Egyptian universities on full scholarship. The students are also given English language training and leadership development opportunities so that they may compete in an increasingly competitive global environment. Through a partnership with Exxon Mobil, The Exxon Mobil MENA Scholarship Program provides select student leaders from the region with a fully-funded scholarship towards a degree at a university in the United States. The Iraqi Scholars & Leaders Program provides Iraqi recipients with the opportunity to pursue study at a U.S. college or university, develop new leadership and cultural skills, and to build closer ties between the people of the U.S. and the future leaders of Iraq.
- Entrepreneurship. Funded by MEPI and administered by IIE in partnership with Endeavor Global and Injaz, LIFT-OFF encourages a positive perception of entrepreneurship as a career option for youth between the ages of 16 and 35 in Egypt. Over a hundred students aged 18-26 have graduated from the intensive Entrepreneurial Leadership Discovery Program and over 2,100 boys and girls have attended the various Entrepreneurship Day trainings at public schools across Giza and Cairo.
- Student and Scholar Exchange. IIE works to promote mutual understanding in the MENA region through a number of U.S. government-sponsored exchange programs, including the Fulbright Student and Scholar Programs, the Fulbright Foreign Language Teaching Assistant (FLTA) Program, the Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program, the Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship Program and the National Security Education Program. These programs have contributed significantly to developing positive relationships between the people of the U.S. and MENA countries. For example, the FLTA program alone welcomes over 400 language teaching assistants each year, 150 of whom teach Arabic at U.S. academic institutions.
- Developing Global Universities. In partnership with New York University (NYU), IIE provides unique, strategic global outreach, screening, and recruitment services to identify candidates for scholarships to attend NYU-Abu Dhabi, NYU's new portal campus in the United Arab Emirates.
- Technology. With funding from the U.S. Department of State, TechWomen pairs women in Silicon Valley with their counterparts in the MENA region for a professional mentorship and exchange program at leading technology companies. The U.S. Department of State's Middle East Partnership Initiative (MEPI) also funds E-Mediat, a public-private partnership which provides cutting-edge new media training to NGOs throughout the MENA region.
- Rescuing Scholars. The Scholar Rescue Fund (SRF) provides fellowships for established scholars whose lives and work are threatened in their home countries. SRF launched the Iraq Scholar Rescue Project, which has assisted more than 200 of Iraq's most senior and threatened academics by providing them with temporary academic positions at universities, colleges and other institutions of higher learning in the MENA region and other countries.
