

The IIE Andrew Heiskell Awards For Innovation in International Education

The Institute of International Education (IIE) created the Andrew Heiskell awards in 2001 to promote and honor the most outstanding initiatives being conducted in international higher education by IIE Network member universities and colleges. We are particularly interested in highlighting initiatives that remove institutional barriers and broaden the base of participation in international teaching and learning on campus. A winning initiative does not have to be the biggest or oldest. It should bring new approaches and new resources to bear on addressing a need or taking advantage of a new opportunity. By recognizing excellence and innovation, the Institute hopes to encourage the expansion and creation of programs based on these successful models. There are five award categories for 2011.

For more information and to view profiles of previous winners, please visit www.iie.org/HeiskellAwards.

AWARD ELIGIBILITY AND DETAILS

- Only IIE Network member institutions are eligible to apply. (Notes: AACC members are also eligible to apply for the Internationalizing the Community College category. For the partnership categories, at least one of the partnering institutions must be an IIE Network member.)
- Nominations will be reviewed by the internal and external Heiskell Awards Evaluation Committees in October and November. Winners will be contacted in December 2010.
- Winning programs will be recognized at IIE's Best Practices Conference in New York City on March 18, 2011. Winners of the Internationalizing the Community College category will be recognized in Houston, Texas on February 4th, 2011 at a workshop focusing on internationalization at community colleges. All winning programs will be showcased on the IIE Network website and in the IIE Networker magazine. Winners will be presented with an award certificate and a $1,000 prize (shared by winning institutions in the partnership categories).
