IIE’s Emergency Student Fund
Providing Critical Funds in Response to Regional Crises

Today, countless international students in the United States are at risk of dropping out of their studies as natural disaster and crises impact their source of funding in their home countries. With your support, IIE can grow this unique program that provides a brighter future for these future leaders and their communities.

Since 2010, IIE-ESF has awarded more than 900 emergency grants, providing over $3 million in critical financial support allowing students to complete their education.

2019 BAHAMAS: $150,000 awarded to 42 Students Following Hurricane Dorian
2018 VENEZUELA: $250,000 awarded to 59 students following political crisis
2017 CARIBBEAN NATIONS: $333,000 awarded to 58 students following Hurricanes Irma and Maria
2016 SYRIA-YEMEN: $215,000 awarded to 91 students during ongoing crises
2015 NEPAL: $330,000 Awarded to 165 students following the earthquake
2014 SYRIA: $212,000 awarded to 43 students during ongoing crisis

Support the IIE Emergency Student Fund Today
646-572-8741 | philanthropy@iie.org | iie.org/give

“IIE-ESF’s generous contribution toward my university tuition helped sustain my studies, ensuring the stability [of] my academic work and the peace of mind needed as I strive for success and academic achievements.”

— 2012 IIE-ESF GRANTEE

“It is thanks to the support that your grant provided that I was able to relieve...financial stress and not have my education interrupted by these circumstances.”

— 2011 IIE-ESF GRANTEE