

JAPAN-IMF SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM FOR ADVANCED STUDIES

A Path for Japanese Nationals to a Career at the IMF

For more information and to watch a JISP introduction video,
visit the following websites:

IMF.org/JISP
www.iie.org/JISP
<http://japanIMFscholarship.org/>

Sakai Ando
IMF Economist
Former Japan-IMF Scholar

Read the full story on the website:
www.iie.org/programs/japan-imf-scholarship-program/testimonials/

"The IMF is one of the few workplaces where you can directly apply economics to the real world through economic policies."

Japan-IMF Scholarship Program

Institute of International Education
One World Trade Center, 36th Floor
New York, NY 10007

www.iie.org/JISP

ACADEMIC YEARS 2024-2026

Japan-IMF Scholarship Program for Advanced Studies

Japan-IMF Scholarship Program for Advanced Studies 2024-2026

A two-year scholarship for Japanese students to pursue a Ph.D. abroad in macroeconomics or economic-related fields including finance, labor economics, development economics, gender, and climate, and become IMF economists.

The Japan-IMF Scholarship Program is financed by the government of Japan and administered by the IMF's Institute for Capacity Development with assistance from the Institute of International Education (IIE).

The goal of the Japan-IMF Scholarship Program is to support Japanese scholars during their doctoral studies in macroeconomics and to help them become applied macroeconomists or specialize in a wide range of economic-related fields including finance, labor economics, development economics, gender, and climate at the IMF.

The Japan-IMF scholarship Program funding covers two years of doctoral studies in relevant fields at universities located outside of Japan.

Who Can Apply

Japanese citizens who:

- Are either applying to a doctoral program in macroeconomics or other relevant fields to the IMF at a university outside of Japan, or in their 1st, 2nd or 3rd year of the program.
- Will complete their Ph.D. program before age 34.

Why Apply

JISP covers all reasonable expenses for two years of graduate study including university tuition, medical insurance, selected travel expenses, and a monthly stipend.

Requirements:

- Attend a 2-day orientation program at the IMF in Washington D.C. (expenses paid) or virtually, where participants will meet other Japan-IMF Scholarship Program and engage with IMF staff members and program alumni.
- Participate in a 10-13 week fully-paid summer internship at the IMF.
- Apply to the IMF's Economist Program (EP).

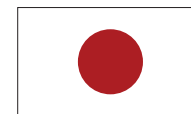

How to Apply

Apply online at www.iie.org/JISP

Application deadline: November 30, 2023

The application must be completed online in English and must include these supporting documents:

- A personal statement focusing on the applicant's background, career goals, and interest in working as an IMF economist.
- University transcripts, and GRE and TOEFL or IELTS scores.
- Two reference letters.
- A scanned digital copy of an application to a doctoral program (for those not yet accepted to or already attending a doctoral program).

FUNDING FOR THE JAPAN-IMF SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM FOR ADVANCED STUDIES IS PROVIDED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF JAPAN

