The purpose of this solicitation amendment is to inform prospective offerors/bidders that the above numbered solicitation is hereby amended to provide responses to questions as follows.

1. Regarding the rate sheet, how would you like us to include non-labor production and post production hard costs that would vary from project to project, such as production meals, production travel, hard drives, etc? Would it be acceptable to just list those expenses as “variable,” given that they are highly dependent on location and other factors, or should these costs be excluded and handled per-project if awarded?

Yes, you can mark those expenses as variable.

2. Also, regarding the rate sheet, for roles with significant pricing variability (such as animators working in varying styles), would it be acceptable to list a range of rates?

Yes, you list a range of rates.

3. Would it be possible to share examples of your favorite recent video projects, so that we can ensure alignment in our submission materials?
